

SYDNEY OPERA HOUSE

The Sydney Opera House is a performing arts centre in Sydney, Australia. It sits alongside Sydney Harbour and utilises shell-like shapes. It is used for a wide variety of local and international performances.

ULURU

Uluru, also known as Ayers Rock is a large sandstone formation in the desert environment of the Northern Territory, forming over 550 million years. Uluru has vital cultural importance to Indigenous Australians.

COLOSSEUM

The Colosseum is an oval amphitheatre located in Rome, Italy. It is built from limestone and concrete and was the largest amphitheatre ever built at the time, holding fifty thousand spectators.

GREAT WALL OF CHINA

The Great Wall of China is a series of fortifications built across the borders of China with an enormous length of twenty one million metres.

NIAGARA FALLS

Niagara Falls is a collection of three waterfalls at the border of Ontario, in Canada, with a height of 51 metres. 2400 cubic metres of water flow through the waterfall every second.

MACHU PICCHU

Machu Picchu is a citadel built in the 15th century and located at the Andes Mountains in Peru. The site is famous for its large stone walls placed and stacked mysteriously without modern technologies.

TABLE MOUNTAINS

Table Mountain is a flat-topped mountain overlooking the city of Cape Town in South Africa. It contains an iconic cable car, which has allowed millions of people to reach the top.

GREAT PYRAMID OF GIZA

The Great Pyramid of Giza is the largest of the three pyramids that border Giza in Cairo, Egypt. It is constructed using limestone and granite and has a colossal volume of over two and a half million cubic metres.